MISS PATSY JANE OLIVER.

MISS PATSY JANE OLIVER.

LAST week was emphatically a week of weddings. October went out to the chiming of wedding bells and November bids fair to carry on the tale, for in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church on Wednesday, November 2, at 8 o'clock P. M., the wedding of Miss Lucy J. Mason to Richard Bliton Lawson, Jr., will be celebrated.

On the afternoon of the same day at 6:30 o'clock, in St. James Church, the wedding of Miss Caroline Gordon Reynolds to Hiram Moore Smith will be followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Reynolds.

At 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 5, in the Second Presbyterian Church, Miss Lillian Binford and Frank Johnston McCarthy will be married. Numbers of other nuptial celebrations throughout the city and State will render the opening days of the month notable in a social way.

To the Military Surgeons. Much brilliant social entertaining will be done in honor of the Association of Military Surgeons, the women accompanying them and the guests of the association, who will be prominent visitors to the city this week.

A luncheon will be tendered these visitors at the Valentine Museum on Thursday, November 3, from 1 to 4 P. M., and they will be given a reception at the Confederate Museum from 3 to 6 o'clock of the same afternoon.

This library, which already numbers over 500 volumes, is a source of great pleasure to the members, who, by donating one book a year, have access to several hundred.

Dr. Russell Cecil, president of the Southern Huguenot Society, conducted the meeting, assisted by Dr. Lilly and Dr. McFadden. Mrs. T. A. Cary, president of the local society, occupied the chair. Interesting and encouraging reports were submitted by the various officers, and a delightful musical program was rendered by Mrs. Walter Mercer, accompanied by Mrs. Martenstein, after which Dr. Cecil read extracts from several letters showing the progress of the work in France.

The same officers were unanimously re-elected, being: President, Mrs. T. A. Cary; First Vice-President, Mrs. L. L. Lewis; Second Vice-President, Miss Jane M. Rutherford; Third Vice-President, Mrs. James D. Crump; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Louise Lewis; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Claire Gull-

The parlor was decorated with ferns, flowers and shaded lamps. Miss Sadie Seward, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Alva Tate, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a cloth suit of blue, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a large bouquet of white chrys-

Rev. Frank A. Strother was the officiating clergyman, and the wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Ernest Harrison, of Burke's Station.

The floral decorations of the first floor were artistic, white and green being used most effectively in the parlor. The recess in the bay window, where the young couple stood during the marriage ceremony and afterward to receive congratulations, was a dainty creation of shimmering white silk, with garlands of white satin and lace applique. Her bouquet was a shower of white carnations and asparagus ferns. Her going-away costume was of black broadcloth, with velvet hat trimmed with plumes, and having a scarf of Persian silk draped about the brim.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry stopped in Richmond on their way South and were guests here for a few days of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Stratford. They were present at a very prettily appointed tea Friday evening, given by Dr. and Mrs. Stratford in honor of the bride, who is a cousin of the latter.
